The first trailer for the creepy, atmospheric sci-fi thriller Pandorum has been released. It stars highly underrated Ben Foster and Dennis Quaid in the story of two people who awake aboard an abandoned spaceship with no memory. As they explore their abandoned, creaking, darkened ship they discover a terrifying reality.

In the trailer, there's a lot of talk about something called Pandorum. Is it a disease? A madness? Watch the first trailer below and see if you can figure it out:

First off, Ben Foster is ALWAYS good, the guys a chameleon and an amazing talent. Second, this movie looks ot be damn good. More of a psychological thriller than anything, though I was hoping for some sort of alien presence. Pandorum def seems to be a madness, they say in the trailer its the result of being in deep space too long. Cool. Guess well have to see what happens.
