Strikeforce on Thursday announced Cung Le \(Pictures\) will face his toughest test in the cage to date, as the 34-year-old San Shou fighter confronts The Ultimate Fighter veteran Jason Von Flue \(Pictures\) in a middleweight matchup December 8 at the HP Pavilion in San Jose, Calif.

The popular Le has been impressive in his brief MMA career, scoring first round knockouts over Mike Altman \(Pictures\) and Brian Warren \(Pictures\).

"I definitely think he's a step or two up," Le stated in a press release. "I think it's gonna be a really good fight because he likes to come forward and throw and that's what I like to do too. Sometimes matches are made that aren't crowd pleasing. I think this one is and we're gonna let it all hang out."

Von Flue, well known for his stay on Spike TV's UFC reality show, looks for his second consecutive victory since being submitted by Joe Riggs \(Pictures\) in August of this year.

Joining the 185-pound athletes on the bill, Vernon White \(Pictures\) faces Bobby Southworth \(Pictures\) for the promotion's vacant light heavyweight title, while Josh Thomson \(Pictures\) and Daniel Puder \(Pictures\) face yet-to-be-determined opponents.
