The event will not only give every amateur Sanshou and light contact competitors a good platform to test their skills and their confidence of their self-protection abilities but some good fighting experience and training opportunities to improve their skills. The event will indeed give all Kungfu, Tai Chi and other styles and choreographed team competitors a center stage to showcase their skills in various levels. We have over 200 categories to compete with: kids and teens Sanshou, light contact, weapons, traditional forms as well as team fighting and team group performance.

Art of War Extreme Sanshou will provide a platform where international fighters in Kungfu Sanshou, Muay Thai, Jiu Ji-Tsu or MMA meet to test their abilities to become the true warrior-K SUPERSTAR in the world.

This Art of War Extreme Kungfu Sanshou encourages fighters from every background to challenge themselves and bring out the warrior within. At the end of the Art of War on Saturday night, only one K. SUPERSTAR fighter remains standing in the ring.

The Shaolin Legacy Kungfu show on Sunday afternoon will certainly provide kids and families a great fun and exciting time you will never regret. It is our goal to inspire and promote the best of the best in the martial arts world. The grand experience of this event is all summed up in its name, "EXTREME" and this event will be sure to impress all spectators. The event is organized by United States of America Sanshou Kungfu Federation, and sponsored by LIU International Shi Deru Shaolin Institute and hosted by the East West Cultural Exchange Foundation, a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization, and Asian Community at large. The chief of the event committee is Grand Master Shawn Liu, the former head coach of the US Sanshou team that brought US numerous medals for the past 10 years on the world Kungfu Sanshou stage.
